Calling all chocoholics! Our sinfully decadent chocolate soap is truly a chocolatiers soapmaker's masterpiece. Made from the liquors of the finest bitter, semi-sweet and milk chocolates and chocked full of Caribbean cocoa butter, Hawaiian coconut cream, sweet vanilla bean and pure silk fibers, this soap is truly to die for. The aroma of chocolate is renowned for its endomorphic stimulating properties that lift both the body and the soul. So please don't feel guilty about feeding chocolate to your skin, you deserve it!

NOTE:Our exclusive chocolate soap comes packaged in a metallic candy box tied with a red satin ribbon. The perfect complete gift for chocoholics, as well as chocolate loving diabetics or anyone on a calorie resticted diet that needs their chocolate fix.

Nature's Rx: Chocolate is loaded with so many skin-friendly phytonutrients and antioxidants like vitamin E and copper that it is considered by many as a health food. It stimulates the skin's blood circulation while regenerating the connective tissues that keep the outer dermis layer firm and youthful looking. Cocoa butter (its scientific name, Theobroma, means “food of the gods”) is a byproduct of making chocolate and when used in soap, puts down a protective layer that holds moisture to the skin, acting as a natural humectant. The addition of coconut cream and pure silk fibers enrich this soap to perfection with their skin loving milk and silk proteins. Sadly the only down side to this incredible soap is that it is inedible. SO PLEASE DON'T EAT THE SOAP! It is not a food product.
